By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Torrential rains and high winds hit southern Michigan Sunday, killing at least three persons, cutting power service and washing out rural roads.

The downpour was believed heaviest at Saginaw where nearly 2½ inches of rain were measured in six hours.

A 20-year-old mother and her two-year-old daughter burned to death early Sunday when lightning touched off a fire in their home at Union City. Mrs. Vivian Winn and her daughter, Carolyn, were trapped in an upstairs bedroom.

Vincent VanPelt, 40, of Detroit, drowned Sunday when high winds upset his fishing boat on Lake Erie.

Cities Flooded
In addition, a ballroom fire at the height of the storm in Detroit Sunday night claimed two lives. It was not known immediately whether lightning or a faulty air conditioning vent touched off the blaze.

In western Michigan, three violent thunderstorms that hit the area in a 17-hour period flooded Grand Rapids, Muskegon and Grand Haven communities with a deluge of water.

The downpour was believed the heaviest since the all-time torrential rainfall of 4.57 inches in a 24-hour period in June nearly half a century ago.

Flood waters last night stalled countless motorists, washed out streets and rural roads, cut power in many places and inundated thousands of office buildings and homes.

Mud Blocks Traffic
A sea of mud washed from surrounding rights of way blocked traffic on US31 immediately north of Shelby Communities in Ottawa County were without power service for as long as five hours.

Detroit was flooded with 1½ inches of rain by 10:30 p. m. last night.

In Oakland County lightning knocked out a power line transformer near Clawson. Winds felled electric wires in Oak Park. Two blocks in Birmingham were darkened when lightning hit power lines in a street-flooded area.

Lightning touched off a barn fire in Royal Oak township. Damage was estimated between $16,000 and $18,000.

At Muskegon, a squirrel, not the storm, cut off power for several hours to the Getty Street plant of Continental Motors Corp. Repair men said the animal stepped on a high tension line and was electrocuted. This knocked out the line.

Ballroom Fire In Detroit Park Takes Two Lives

DETROIT (AP)—A bandman who went back after his trombone and a dancer perished in a spectacular fire which destroyed a ballroom in Detroit's Edgewater Park and drove 400 into a torrential rain Sunday night.

Many had narrow escapes, but no major panic developed.

James Mengon, ballroom manager, said a bolt of lightning struck the building, setting the fire. A patron, however, said the blaze appeared to start in an air conditioning vent.

Musician Goes Back
Victims were Bruno Jaworski, 38, a trombonist, and Manning L. Sporn, 35, a salesman. Both were Detroiters.

Jaworski, who escaped once, was trapped as the flaming ballroom roof collapsed after he had dashed back in, saying: "I can't afford to lose that horn of mine."

Sporn was a patron. No one knew how he was trapped.

Police said only the quick, cool action of band leader Russ Weaver and the fact the building had adequate exits prevented a possible panic and a toll such as Detroit's tragic Study Club fire in 1929. It took 22 lives.

Last night's big dance was a charity affair for the City of Hope Hospital, a leukemia research and medical center at Duarte, Calif.

Crowd Jams Bridge
Cyril Wagner, Edgewater owner, estimated the loss at $500,000, although other buildings in the amusement park were saved by firemen. They include thrill rides and midway attractions, closed since Labor Day.

Early arriving firemen, however, were hampered by dancers who jammed a bridge across the Rouge River to the park, which is at Seven Mile and Lasher Roads, and clogged canopied exits hesitating to go out into the rain.

A near-panic developed around the ballroom cloakroom as many patrons tried to reclaim coats and hats. Mangan ran into the crowd, finally dispersing it. Sporn's body was found near the cloakroom.

Some waited so long they barely escaped the collapsing roof. Miss Reva Pastor, 26, of Detroit, said she saw the roof fall as she jumped through an exit.

Thousands of spectators watched the fire which sent flames soaring 100 feet. The blaze was brought under control shortly after midnight. Approximately 100 firemen with 21 pieces of equipment battled the flames.

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP)—A helicopter from Kinross Air Force Base Sunday spotted a hunter and his wife lost in the Upper Peninsula bush country north of the Soo. The couple, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Murino, of Sault Ste. Marie, had been missing since Saturday. They were brought out unharmed by Chippewa County sheriff's men.

Leonard Invites Gov. Williams To Radio-TV Debate

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Michigan political campaign picked up speed over the weekend as Republicans and Democrats sought for momentum to sweep them to a Nov. 2 victory.

The Democrats got a welcome helping hand at Detroit Saturday night from Adlai Stevenson while Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich.) claimed the banner of civil rights for the Republican party.

Sunday, Democratic Gov. Frank Clement, of Tennessee, appeared in the Eighteenth Congressional District (Oakland County) to bolster the campaign of congressional nominee Paul Sutton against incumbent Republican George Dondero.

And Democratic Gov. Williams, campaigning in Oakland County, weighed the challenge of his Republican opponent, Donald S. Leonard, to "debate the important public issues before radio and television audiences."

Williams did not reply immediately to Leonard's invitation to meet him in a series of television and radio debates on campaign issues. However it was rumored in Lansing that the governor may accept the challenge if financial arrangements can be worked out by the two parties to pay for air time.

Stevenson, at a Democratic rally, attacked what he termed "creeping GOP normalcy." He described it as "a normal underemployment of our resources and a transfer of our resources and our concern from the many to the few."

Smoker Who Sued Tobacco Firm Dies From Lung Cancer

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Ira C. Lowe, 39, who filed a $500,000 damage suit against the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. claiming smoking caused him to have lung cancer, died of cancer at his home here Saturday.

Lowe, former resident of Festus, Mo., also named the Shop Ezy Market here as a defendant in his Circuit Court suit last June. He claimed he smoked the Reynolds firm's product and bought the cigarettes at the market.

Four Count To 100 As Gunman Gets $189
BALTIMORE (AP)—A holdup man herded four persons into the prescription room of Thomas H. Caldwell's drug store Sunday night and told them to "start counting out loud to 100."

Then the gunman picked up the day's receipts which Caldwell had been counting and headed for the cash register in the front of the store.

The counters had reached about 25 when the gunmen returned seconds later and told them to "start over." They were closed to 50 when the man fled with $189.07.

Caldwell said he called police "while the others were still counting."

France Tracks Down Leaks In Defense Secrets

PARIS (AP)—Police informants say the route French defense secrets traveled to the Communists is coming to light as a result of the arrest of Red journalist Andre Baranes.

Nabbed in eastern France Saturday as he tried to flee on a woman's red bicycle to Switzerland, Baranes was charged formally Sunday with endangering the security of the state.

Police sources said the journalist had confessed to being the chief middleman in the transmission to the Communists of secret information on meetings of the National Defense Council.

Though the leaks began during the government of former Premier Joseph Laniel, the furor has posed grave new problems for Premier Pierre Mendes-France.

Two high employees of the Defense Ministry, Rene Turpin and Roger Labrusse, were arrested Friday on charges of giving secret information to nonqualified persons. The ministry's secretary general, Jean Mons, was suspended—but not jailed—on suspicion of endangering the state security through negligence.

Turpin was chief of Mons' personal secretariat and Labrusse was in charge of "national protection" at the ministry.

The police informants said Baranes, during 15 hours of uninterrupted questioning by four French counterespionage agents, gave this account:

Labrusse dictated the secret information directly to him, or sometimes passed it by intermediaries who have not been identified.

Baranes never met Turpin and had no contact with him. Police said Turpin had admitted being the original source of the leaks but claimed he had no direct connection with Baranes.

Baranes relayed the secrets to the French Communist party command.

McCarthy To Stress Fight On Communism In Censure Defense

By LEWIS GULICK
WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. McCarthy seemed certain today to put stress on his "fight against communism" as a cornerstone of his Senate defense against a move to censure him for his conduct.

The Wisconsin Republican hit on this theme time and again during a radio-TV interview Sunday night—his first personal reply since a special Senate committee a week ago recommended his censure.

Politics Is Factor
And he said the Senate which meets Nov. 8 to take up the issue, "definitely" won't vote for censure if it considers the facts and the setting of "dangerous precedent." But the vote will go against him, he said, if senators base their judgment on politics.

McCarthy also listed President Eisenhower and the Democratic National Committee as vote-swingers, without saying what he thought either would do for or against him.

He introduced the censure resolution against him, had "bragged" of receiving a letter from Eisenhower congratulating the Vermont senator for his initial attack on McCarthy.

"I don't think Eisenhower would send a letter of commendation," McCarthy said. "If that's true, that would certainly swing some votes against me."

Flanders, at Pebble Beach, Calif., said Sunday night he had "received a brief note of approval" from Eisenhower last March.

Carr Leaves Committees
While the controversial Wisconsin senator was facing a battery of questioners on the censure issue, the Chicago Tribune published a report that another of his coprinicipals in the McCarthy-Armey case was about to leave the

Quick Approval Predicted For Defense Treaty

By SEYMOUR TOPPING

LONDON (AP)—Western Europe today generally welcomed the momentous decision by the United States and her allies to free and rearm the 50 million West Germans and weld them solidly within the Atlantic alliance against aggression.

Aside from expected leftist opposition, statesmen and newspapers voiced prayerful hopes that the historic "London Act" signed here Sunday by the nine foreign ministers will be put speedily into final treaty form and will win quick approval from the hesitant French Assembly and other member parliaments.

Premier Calls Deputies

Wasting no time, French Premier Pierre Mendes-France and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer hurried from the conference closing to Paris and Bonn and began organizing their campaigns to win the key ratifications from their deputies.

In a surprise move, the French leader called a National Assembly session Thursday afternoon to hear his report on the London meeting. The deputies had been on vacation since their rejection of the European Defense Community Pact Aug. 30 set off the chain of crisis events which culminated in Sunday's agreement.

Mendes-France was reported "four fifths sure" the Chamber of Deputies would approve the sweeping new plan to rearm West Germany.

Experts Add Details

Adenauer scheduled a report to Parliament Tuesday. None of the parliaments can act, however, until experts incorporate the London agreements into treaties for signing, probably late this month.

In the legislatures of the other conference nations—Britain, the United States, Canada, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg—the agreements are expected to have smooth sailing.

Similar approval is anticipated from the other six NATO members: Norway, Denmark, Turkey, Greece, Iceland and Portugal.

The blueprint pounded out by the nine powers in their six-day meeting calls for an end to the American - British - French occupation of West Germany "as quickly as possible." The Allies will remain in Communist-surrounded West Berlin, however.

Accidents Claim 29 In Michigan

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

At least 29 persons died in Michigan accidents over the weekend as fires, traffic mishaps, drownings and an airplane crash took one of the heaviest tolls in recent months.

Traffic accidents claimed 17 lives; four persons drowned; four died in an airplane crash, and four died in fires during severe electrical storms.

Leonard Horner, 62, and David J. Ferguson, 44, of Toledo, were killed Sunday night 17 miles southwest of Monroe when they were struck by a car while putting gas in the tank of their car.

Two Battle Creek women died in a head-on collision Sunday night on M-37, one-half mile south of the Cass and Barry county line. They were Mrs. Helen Riegel, 59, and Mrs. Louise Parsons, 62.

A search was started at Bay Port for Maynard Smith, about 38, of Bay City, who has been missing since yesterday morning on a duck hunting trip in Saginaw Bay. He was alone in a 16-foot outboard motor boat.

In Union City, Mrs. Vivian Winn, 20, and her 2-year-old daughter, Carolyn, burned to death early Sunday when fire swept through their home.

Officer Tumbles Out Of Airliner Hatch; Rescued

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—An infantry reserve officer, who was blown half way out an airliner's emergency hatch and lived to tell it, prepared to resume his trip to Ft. Monmouth, N. J., today — by plane.

"But I won't sit beside a hatch," said Lt. Col. James Greenway, 48, of Seattle, who awoke from a snooze Saturday to find himself dangling as far outside a DC6 as the loosened safety belt, which caught at his knees, would let him.

Wallet Blown Away
"I thought 'this is it,'" he told a reporter in Memorial Hospital at South Bend, where he was taken for observation after the United Air Lines craft made an emergency landing.

Fellow passengers grabbed a leg and an arm and pulled him back into the ship. He said his wallet containing a "nominal sum" of money, pen and pencil, personal papers and wrist watch, were blown away. His jacket was torn to shreds.

The airliner, carrying 66 passengers and a crew of four, was New York-bound and had left Chicago for Cleveland around noon Saturday. It was cruising 300 m.p.h. at 13,000 feet, when the escape hatch cover beside Col. Greenway's seat flew off and the colonel nearly followed it.

He said he dozed off almost as soon as the plane left Chicago and had loosened the safety belt with the intention of unbuckling it when the plane's warning light went out. But by that time he was already asleep and the belt was still buckled.

Greenway, production manager for the Carnation Co. in Seattle, goes to Ft. Monmouth for 15 days active duty.

The hatch cover damaged the plane's tail assembly when it flew off and the plane was grounded pending Civil Aeronautics Board inspection.

Chicago South Side Robbers Take Sporting Chance For Getaway
CHICAGO (AP)—Two masked gunmen left one of three porters engaged in exchange for a "sporting chance" at a getaway after looting a restaurant safe of $5,000 early Sunday.

The robbers tied up three employees and gagged them while they worked two hours with drill and sledge hammers to open the safe of the Palm Grove Inn on the South Side.

Walter Owens, one of the porters, said one of the men removed his gag on condition he not call for help until he was given permission.

As the robbers reached the alley behind the restaurant, one of them shouted, "Now!"

Hint Of Secrecy In Government Crops Up Again

By ED CREAGH

(For JAMES MARLOW)
WASHINGTON (AP)—That touchy question of secrecy on the part of your government has cropped up again.

Last June the Eisenhower administration set up a new system of keeping tabs on government employees—to prevent such things as the housing scandals which have been in the public eye.

On the face of it, this sounded praiseworthy enough. Or at least it probably would have if the public had heard about it. But except for top people in the government nobody did hear about it. The story never reached the public until the Washington Star "broke" it a few days ago.

Doubt Stirred Up

Then, right away, the very secrecy of the program stirred up doubt about it. The White House felt it necessary to deny it was some sort of "super-snooper, Gestapo-like" system for poking into the private lives of federal workers.

Just what is the program? Well, the text of the order setting it up now has been published—though not with official sanction. It shows the program would (1) set up inspector general offices, like the Army has, throughout the executive branch, and (2) allow the inspectors to investigate the "conduct" of government employees.

The order went out—with President Eisenhower's approval, the White House says—in the name of Budget Director Rowland Hughes. Hughes still won't talk about it and neither will the people who work for him.

But Philip Young, chairman of the Civil Service Commission and a White House adviser, says it's nothing to get excited about—"just a routine operation."

Private Lives Included

Young says many government agencies already have their own inspection systems. And the Budget Bureau, he says, was only calling to the attention of the agency heads the necessity for maintaining "the proper and appropriate conduct of employees."

There's that word "conduct" again. What does it mean? Official conduct? Or what an employee does in his spare time? Or what?

Murray Snider, assistant White House press secretary, says: "There is nothing in the (Budget Bureau) that deals with the private lives of government employees."

But Snyder also says the order "deals with the manner in which employees do their jobs, and anything that relates to that."

And another government official, who doesn't want his name used, says: "The primary purpose of the order is to have a dignified check made on those employees with outside interests and activities to make certain they don't conflict with those of the agencies in which they are employed."

Paper Finds Flaws
In spite of official reassurances, the Washington Star still finds "two big flaws" in the program:

"Inspectors were allowed enough leeway to pry into government employees' private lives. 'The whole operation was kept secret.'"

And the Star complains it is nowhere made clear just what sort of "employee conduct" the inspectors are free to inspect: "Conceivably they could knock on the employee's door in the night and ask impertinent questions."

Maybe this is borrowing trouble. And maybe such questions wouldn't be impertinent if the employee happened to be shooting craps with a handful of the taxpayers' money.

But somebody, it would seem, borrowed some unnecessary trouble by trying to keep the whole program hush-hush.

Balmy Weather Due For Chill

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A tagtail chunk of summer continued to hover over the South and Midwest Monday and an impatient thrust of winter chilled Montana and moved into the Dakotas, Minnesota and Wyoming.

Early morning temperatures in the high 70s and low 80s presaged another day of humid heat such as brought record high temperatures for the date Sunday to Chicago, St. Louis and Springfield, Ill.

And like Sunday, the unseasonable warmth and humidity brought heavy showers again—three inches at Detroit, 2.59 at Jackson, Mich., 1.12 at Ottumwa, Iowa, .62 at Bradford, Ill.

By way of contrast, it was a frigid 23 degrees at Cutbank, Mont. Monday morning. This was only three degrees lower than the Sunday maximum there.

Record temperatures Sunday were 91 at Chicago, 93 at Springfield and 92 at St. Louis, but they were not high for the day. Guyton, Okla., and Presidio, Tex., reported 98 and Indianapolis 90.

The heat belt continued to run northeastward from Texas into the southern Great Lakes and South Atlantic states, with early morning readings in the high 70s and low 80s.

The cold air out of Canada which brought low 20s to northern Montana moved southward and eastward, and was expected to reach the northern part of the "swelter belt" late Monday or Tuesday.

Chicago received the severest drenching from the heavy thunderstorms which dotted the hot and humid sections Sunday. Precipitation ranged up to five inches in south suburban areas and caused scattered damage from flooding.

Union Formed By Holy Name

Holy Name Union officers of the seven deaneries in the Catholic diocese of the Upper Peninsula met at Holy Family Home in Marquette yesterday to organize the Marquette Diocesan Holy Name Union.

Officers elected for the 1954-55 year are O'Neil D'Amour, Gladstone, president; F. Leo Bois-sineau, Sault Ste. Marie, vice president; Ken L. Gunderman, Escanaba, secretary; and William Van de Hei, Menominee, treasurer.

The meeting opened with an 11 o'clock mass at which Bishop Thomas L. Noa officiated. The all day meeting was conducted by Msgr. David Spelgatti.

Bishop Noa outlined two major objectives of the Holy Name Union for the coming year, the development of the diocesan retreat program for men and the development of the recreational camp program at Camp Plagens for boys.

Plans for the organization of Marian Year pilgrimages on a deanery level were discussed and will be developed more fully in the ensuing weeks. A program for each month of the year also was developed at the meeting.

Escanaba deanery officers who attended are O'Neil D'Amour, president; George Mathews, Manistique, vice president; Ken L. Gunderman, secretary; and Leo J. Brunelle, Bark River, treasurer.

Force Of Newspaper Advertising Is Told

Newspapers from coast to coast received documentary proof today of the tremendous force they wield in support of major advertising campaigns.

In the first survey of its kind, the Newspaper Advertising Executives Association found that daily newspapers provide their advertisers with numerous "merchandising support" that goes far beyond just publishing their advertisements.

Results of the survey were described by newspaper advertising executives as "the greatest newspaper story ever told."

It shows, they said, that newspapers throw a veritable army of their own personnel into the campaign to help "put across" nationally advertised products. These thousands of newspaper advertising representatives, all across the country, will contact local retailers everywhere to tell them of the product, help get distribution, arrange special window and counter displays, plan tie-in advertising, and maintain a watch on the effectiveness of the sales effort.

Letters To Dealers

They will also send out ten of thousands of cards and letters to dealers in their respective areas, informing them of the dates for the campaign and advising them of how they can get take advantage of the advertising.

Some months ago, questionnaires on their individual methods of "merchandising support" were sent to 664 newspapers having membership in NAEA. Answers were received from 632, representing every important market in the United States and Canada and 76 per cent of the total daily newspaper circulation in the two countries.

"As remarkable as the return was, the story we now have to tell and arrange for it to be well displayed.

Again, 625 of the papers would immediately get in touch with a total of 13,846 grocery and drug stores, to urge them to feature the product in their own individual advertisements.

From 590 of those newspapers would go a total of 92,875 cards or letters, informing grocery markets and drug stores in their areas of the advertising campaign and listing the dates when it would be most effective to feature the advertised product.

Newspapers Set

Representatives of 394 newspapers would go out to tell the sales staffs of brokers and distributors how best they can promote sales of the product.

Bulletins would be sent out by 182 of the papers to the retail trade, publicizing the campaign and these regularly circulated bulletins reach a total of 620,879 outlets every month.

Finally, the survey showed, 505 of the newspapers would make a "distribution check" at the start of the campaign, to make sure retailers were stocking the product; 482 would follow up with a check on results at the close of the campaign.

In all, 575 newspapers would supply the advertiser with the kind of data he needed to plan his sales effort in the respective markets.

"While we chose as a hypothetical example a product which would be sold through drug and grocery outlets, this demonstrates that newspapers can and do give a tremendous extra push to any nationally advertised product," said Paul Eisberry, president of the American Association of Newspaper Representatives. "The results prove that newspapers put a tremendous selling tool at the service of their advertisers," he added.

A summary of the survey is being distributed today to 6,000 firms which advertise nationally, 1,500

Ore Shipments Declining Here

Iron ore shipments from the Chicago & North Western docks at Escanaba continue to fall behind last year with the prospect that total tonnage this year will be approximately 2,000,000 tons below the 1953 total of 6,163,352. The slack ore loading is not peculiar to Escanaba, but applies to all of the iron ports on the Upper Lakes.

Iron ore loadings at Marquette to Sept. 27 totaled 2,344,000 so far this year, nearly a million tons below the Escanaba total.

For the month of September, loadings at Escanaba totaled 641,570 tons, compared to 769,298 tons for the same month last year. The total to Oct. 1 this year was 3,183,596 compared to the 1953 total of 4,963,006 for the same period.

Most of the ore arriving at Escanaba for shipment is coming from the Menominee range, as in the past. A small amount—100,159 tons—was received from the Marquette range.

The biggest decline here is in advertising agencies, and to local wholesalers and jobbers by hundreds of newspapers in the U. S. and Canada.

HOW TO APPLY DEODORANTS

by Melton McGovern, Graduate of National Institute of Dry Cleaning.

The true deodorant doesn't stop the flow of perspiration. It deodorizes it. But the non-perspirant acts on an astringent principle; it closes the pores and prevents the flow of perspiration. And non-perspirants are usually acid.

Best way to avoid underarm stains caused by deodorants is to apply them the previous night. Failing that, here's the next best thing:

1. Apply deodorants at least 15 or 20 minutes before dressing.
2. Use them sparingly, wipe off excess. Allow to dry.
3. Clean garments worn when you have used a deodorant often and as soon after wear as possible.

That way the damaging chemicals can be removed before they've had time to do the full job of damage.

These three simple precautions will lengthen the life of your clothing and either prevent or retard the appearance of unsightly stains.

And, as a general recommendation, you'll be safer if you use creme type deodorants exclusively. They're usually non-acid and they don't affect the tensile strength of fabrics quite as severely as may the acid (fluid) "deodorants", even though they may affect dyes.

In any event, whatever the cleaning problem, it's always a good idea to

Bethany Plans Organ Concert

An organ concert, featuring Maud Nosler, soprano, with Henry Beard, organist, will be presented at the Bethany Lutheran Church Sunday, Oct. 10, at 8:15 p. m.

The guest artists, who appeared last year in the series of Bethany organ concerts, are returning to Escanaba by popular request. They performed before a capacity audience last year.

Maud Nosler, widely known as an oratorio specialist and Bach interpreter, will present a well varied program. A native of Texas, she has sung many times with the Apollo Club and the Swedish Choral Society of Chicago, all with Chicago Symphony Orchestra. She has appeared five times as guest soloist with the famous Bach Choir of St. Louis and the St. Louis Symphony.

In addition to her concert work, Miss Nosler is a featured singer in Bach and music festivals at many colleges and universities throughout the country. She was featured soloist at the great Moravian Festival at Bethlehem in June under the direction of Thor Johnson. Recently, Miss Nosler, Thor Johnson and string orchestra recorded seven of the Moravian songs in New York.

Scalp Of Sault Man Laid Bare In Hunting Mishap

SAULT STE. MARIE—A Sault man was partially scalped by duck shot in Chippewa county's first hunting accident of the 1934 season, near Dunbar.

Howard Amel, 34, of The Shallows, is hospitalized Saturday with the right half of his head, above the ear, laid bare by duck shot, when a gun handled by Neil MacInnis of 704 Eureka Street, accidentally discharged shortly after the season opened, sheriff's officers said.

Chippewa county sheriff's office was notified of the accident at 12:45 p. m. by hospital authorities.

According to the accident report, Amel was seated in the bow of a 14-foot boat with MacInnis seated at the rear.

A flight of duck attracted by decoys was about to make a landing, when MacInnis swung his gun with the flight, the report stated. It went off. The shot lifted Amel's hat from his head and scored the right side of his head, requiring treatment at the hospital.

Hospital authorities said Amel's condition was good.

Upper Peninsula Polio Case Load Has Reached 23

MARQUETTE—A 29-year-old Manistique woman has been admitted to St. Luke's Hospital here for treatment for acute poliomyelitis.

That brings to 23 the total polio case load for the Upper Peninsula to date this year.

Chippewa and Marquette Counties, with seven and six cases, respectively, have been by far the most heavily hit.

Totals for other counties are: Gogebic, Keweenaw, Menominee and Ontonagon, one each, and Mackinac and Schoolcraft, three each. Seven counties—Alger, Baraga, Iron, Dickinson, Luce, Delta and Houghton—have thus far escaped without a single reported case of infantile paralysis this year.

Don't live in the past—no one ever backed into prosperity.

Mrs. Wilson Is Taken By Death

Mrs. A. N. Wilson, 65, long time resident of Escanaba, and prominent in fraternal, church and political activities in Michigan many years before her health failed, died at 10:30 p. m., Sunday at the family home at Garden Junction near Cooks.

She had been ill two years as the result of a stroke.

She was an active member of the First Presbyterian Church and a Past Synodical officer, a past matron of R. E. Hatheway Chapter 49, Order of the Eastern Star, and a past president of Cloverland Association, O. E. S., as well as a family member of the Grand Chapter of the Order of Eastern Star in Michigan.

She also served as president of the Ladies' Auxiliary to Escanaba Commandery 47, Knights Templar and at one time was a member of the White Shrine.

Active many years in the Republican party she served as chairman of the Delta County Republican Woman's Club.

She also was affiliated with the Rebekah Lodge.

Born Isabella MacKenzie, in Kincardine, Ontario, Canada, she came to this country to live in the Copper Country when she was 10. She had lived in Escanaba 30 years before the family moved to Garden Junction in May of this year.

Surviving are her husband A. N. (Doc) Wilson, a son, James G. Wilson, one daughter, Miss Jean E. Wilson and two grandchildren, Garden Junction, and a sister, Miss Eva MacKenzie, Detroit.

The body was taken to the Allo Funeral Home where friends may call after 2 p. m., Tuesday. Services will be conducted by the Rev. James H. Bell of the First Presbyterian Church at the funeral home chapel Wednesday at 2 p. m. Burial will be in Lakeview Cemetery. Past Matrons will conduct the Eastern Star ritual.

Police reported that Stoneclift refused to get out his car, kicked Officer Sullivan in the chest and shoulders when he opened the car door, slammed the door shut and rolled up the window, pinning Officer Sullivan's hand in the window. They reported that Stoneclift then started his car and Officer Sullivan pulled his hand out, injuring it.

According to the police report, Officer Sullivan pulled his hand "billy" in an effort to subdue Stoneclift, and drew his gun in an unsuccessful attempt to make Stoneclift roll down the car window.

Gun Club Protests Dumping Of Waste On Club Property

MARQUETTE—Members of the Marquette Rod and Gun Club have been circulating petitions in protest of a plan whereby a portion of their club grounds would be used as a dumping area.

The city commission, at a meeting last Aug. 9, terminated a portion of a contract with the club, agreeing to permit the Cliffs Dow Chemical Company to use about 30 acres of the club's 100-acre tract for a dump ground.

The club holds a lease from the city on the property, which is located north of County Road 550 and west of the Dead River. But the lease stipulates that it can be altered by either party (the city or the club) on 60-day notice.

Inasmuch as the club was notified of the commission's action on Aug. 10, the notice period will expire Oct. 10. Since Oct. 10 is a Sunday, however, deadline for filing of protests by the club will fall on the following day, which happens to be a scheduled meeting date for the commission. So it is possible that the issue will come up for discussion at the next commission meeting.

Uncensored Press Is Essential For Protection Of Democracy

"THIS is a story you are NOT to read to-day."

This sentence is published on Page One in this issue of the Escanaba Press today in a space that could have been allotted to an important story. It may have been a story about an important city council meeting, a report on skullduggery at the state or national capital or, perhaps a story about an important new economic development.

Words, Wit & Wisdom

By William Morris

Some weeks ago, inspired by the publication of a new novel titled A PRIDE OF LIONS, we commented at some length on several unusual words used to designate groups of birds or animals. A "pride" of lions, you see, means a group of lions, just as a "gaggle" of geese means a flock of geese.

Now Dr. Mark Sternfels, a Westchester County (N. Y.) veterinarian, sends along a few more intriguing "animal words" and notes one oversight in our previous column on the subject. A "gaggle" of geese, it seems, is a flock of geese on the ground. When airborne it becomes a "skein."

Around our house we usually speak of a "litter" of cats or dogs—that is unless we're referring to the entire animal population (which currently runs to four cats, a dog and two hamsters) as "the Morris Menagerie." According to the good doctor, though, the proper term for feline young is a "kindle of kittens" and a family of mature cats is a "clowder" of cats.

It's in the bird world, though, that these collective nouns take on real grace and delight. How about a "murmuration" of starlings, a "muster" of peacocks and an "exaltation" of larks? And, as though to underscore the obvious, a "charm" of finches.

Incidentally, that word "charm" also was used some centuries back to describe the blended voices of a flock of birds or a bevy of children. No parent within earshot of a "bevy" of today's youngsters will be surprised to learn that this meaning of charm is now marked "obsolete" by the dictionaries.

A herd of bears, we are informed, is properly labeled a "sloth" of bears, while the linguistically precise huntsman would speak of a "shrewdness" of apes, a "rout" of wolves and—oh, happy phrase—a "skulk" of foxes.

Still other refinements of animal language, once scrupulously observed but now nearly forgotten, relate to bird groups. A "raft" of game birds, logically enough, is a group of birds aloft and, as we noted above, a "gaggle" becomes a "skein" when aloft. But the purist makes even nicer distinctions than that. A single family of birds aloft is a "covey" but several families aloft together form a "bevy." And if you're wondering how to tell whether the birds in flight belong to one or more families—better take your question to the nature lore editor. I'm the word man—not a bird man!

to report these events as they happened. They would be restricted to the censored stories—half truths, sometimes outright lies, more often complete suppression—as dictated by a political boss.

But this is America, where the people have a right to know! Newspapers possess the right—and the obligation—to report the happenings of the day—the good and the bad, the happy and the tragic.

Through the years famous people have expressed in vivid language the real meaning of freedom of the press, but none so vividly as Thomas Jefferson with this statement:

"And were it left for me to decide whether we should have a government without newspapers or newspapers without government, I should not hesitate a moment to prefer the latter."

It also was Jefferson who said, "Our liberty depends upon freedom of the press and that cannot be limited without being lost."

This is National Newspaper Week. True enough, it is an occasion for newspapers throughout the land to boast with pride about their achievements, particularly in the field of community service. But National Newspaper Week is more than that. It serves the more important purpose of directing the nation's attention to the integral part that newspapers play in the daily functions of a democracy, the newspapers leadership in the protection of all human rights, including those granted to individuals as basic privileges by the United States Constitution.

Many people fail to realize that the Constitution, after all, is only a document of words set down on paper. The document to be truly effective must be implemented by action—by the protection of courts, by law enforcement agencies, by law makers—but most of all, by the power of public opinion.

Newspapers provide the leadership in this ever-constant battle to preserve individual rights and freedom in this country.

"Your Newspaper—Freedom's Forum." That's the slogan of National Newspaper Week. Its appropriateness is obvious.

Questions and Answers

Q—Has the name "kodak" any special meaning?

A—No. It is a word coined arbitrarily by George Eastman.

Q—Under what President were the largest number of states admitted to the Union?

A—Benjamin Harrison. The six states were North Dakota, South Dakota, Montana and Washington in 1889, and Idaho and Wyoming in 1890.

Q—When did Libya become an independent country?

A—In 1952.

Q—What per cent of the food dollar goes for distribution cost?

A—Out of every dollar you spend for food, 18½ cents goes to cover the cost of distribution, according to a recent study by the National Association of Food Chains.

Try And Stop Me By BENNETT CERF

The most fastidious and polite Briton he ever met, avers a Detroit auto magnate, is the stout fellow who was captured in darkest Africa by a band of cannibals. He watched their preparations for a special feast without batting an eyelid, and didn't even lose his composure when they lowered him into the pot and began piling up shavings and big sticks beneath it. What finally broke him down, however, was the medicine man's obvious intention to slice an onion for additional flavor in the stew.

"I'll have to ask you to desist, my good man," said the Briton. "Those blasted things always make me cry!"

The Doctor Says . . .

Bed Rest Will Help Save Limbs of Neuritis Victims

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. — Written for NEA Service

Again the request has come in to devote a column to the subject of polyneuritis. Most readers, perhaps, are more familiar with the term "neuritis" which has been discussed more frequently. Actually, there is not a great deal of difference, since the "poly" part of the name merely means inflammation and pain in several nerves instead of a single one as is the case in neuritis.

Polyneuritis is often an irritating problem. Too frequently it tends to get worse as time goes on, though this is not always the case. Not infrequently the parts of the body supplied by the affected nerves show weakness, wasting of the muscles, pain tenderness and even changes in sensation or the ability to feel.

SOMETIMES the pain is severe, and once in a while the interference with sensation is so great that a pin can be stuck into the skin of the affected areas without being felt at all.

There are a host of possible causes. Most of the well-known metals, such as mercury, bismuth, arsenic and lead are responsible in some cases. Vitamin deficiency diseases, particularly beriberi, which is a vitamin "B" deficiency, and pellagra may be at fault.

POLYNEURITIS sometimes develops from general dietary deficiencies during

Today In Washington

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—Former President Truman now may have to be called before the Senate committee on rules—which is studying congressional committee methods—to explain why he refused to honor a subpoena from the committee on un-American activities of the House of Representatives in connection with the alleged treason of the late Harry Dexter White.

Associate Justice Tom C. Clark of the Supreme Court of the United States may have to be summoned before the same committee to explain why he declined an invitation to discuss acts that occurred during the 12 years he was in the Department of Justice, four of them as attorney general. He refused the invitation of the judiciary committee of the House of Representatives last year when it was investigating scandals in the Department of Justice. He also refused a subpoena by the House committee on un-American activities last year.

Can Messrs. Truman and Clark "obstruct legislative processes" and be immune from contempt proceedings while Senator McCarthy is to be censured not for declining to honor a subpoena but merely for refusing an "invitation" to testify?

DUAL STANDARDS?

The testimony originally sought from Justice Clark had no relationship to any cases or proceedings before the Supreme Court, and he still is as much subject to a summons by the legislative branch of the government to explain past acts as he is by the executive branch if, for instance, anything is ever found to be wrong about his income taxes.

Is a former president and is a former attorney to be regarded as exempt from cross-examination by a congressional committee while, as in the case of Senator McCarthy, a member of the Senate has to submit to interrogation on acts that occurred either before he came to the Senate or prior to his current term?

One can almost hear some counterpart of the Watkins committee writing about the refusals to testify by Messrs. Truman and Clark:

"This is a continuing government . . . The mere reading of the testimony by J. Edgar Hoover in the case of Harry Dexter White and by other witnesses before the House committee investigating tax scandals makes it clear that the conduct of these officials who were the responsible officers in charge are under inquiry. These men owe it to Congress to testify if the dignity, honor and authority of the Congress are to be maintained. When persons in high places fail to set and meet high standards by refusing to give their own government information needed to prevent recurrences of wrongdoing, the people lose faith, and if our people lose faith, our government cannot long endure."

WHAT ABOUT LANGER?

What also shall be done now with the case of Senator William Langer, of North Dakota, who is chairman of the Senate judiciary committee? If the Watkins committee report is logically to be followed when it says it has the power to punish a senator for any act committed whether in this term or prior thereto, then the Senate may have before it for reconsideration the case described recently in the Congressional Record as follows:

"Langer was elected senator on November 5, 1940. On January 3, 1941, he was permitted to take his seat 'without prejudice' either to himself or the Senate. His credentials were later turned over to the committee on privileges and elections, which considered the case for over a year. On January 29, 1942, the committee reported, with the majority recommending that inasmuch as the charge of 'moral turpitude' had been proven beyond all reasonable doubt, the 'integrity of the United States Senate be upheld by denying William Langer the right to be a United States senator from the state of North Dakota.' . . . Two alleged acts of corruption apparently involving Langer particularly disturbed the committee: (1) a lawyer for Great Northern Railway, it was charged, paid Langer $25,000 for stock in some Mexican lands (already expropriated) after the railway's taxes were cut $150,000 a year; (2) Attorney Gregory Brunk, after profiting handsomely in North Dakota county bonds, paid Langer, the committee asserted, $56,800 for dust bowl lands the former had never seen."

The Senate ignored its committee's advice and, by a vote of 52 to 30, upheld Senator Langer's right to his seat. One of the moving considerations was that what happened, whether right or wrong, occurred before the senator was elected to the Senate for his then current term.

Business As Usual

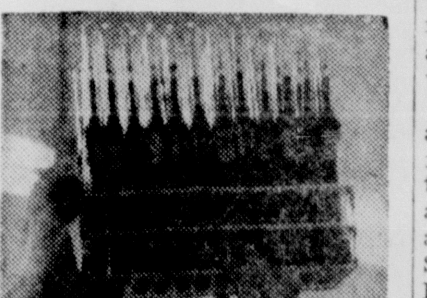

Success Of Salk Polio Vaccine To Be Told By 2 Million Tubes

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Two million slim glass tubes in a network of laboratories from Connecticut to California will help determine, by early next year, if the Salk polio vaccine works.

In the tubes are cultures being used to find out whether the vaccine makes youngsters develop polio-fighting particles within their blood. Reports on tests with the tubes will be sent from 27 laboratories in this country and Canada to the University of Michigan, where Dr. Thomas Francis, Jr., and a staff of more than 100 people will make the final evaluation of the vaccine's effectiveness.

For each of the approximately 40,000 children who are giving three samples of blood for testing, 54 separate tubes must be carefully prepared and studied. At least 1,000,000 of the tubes will be examined under microscopes.

The number and complexity of the tests which must be completed help make the vaccine trial one of the most massive medical investigations since the science of healing began. The high cost of the program is one reason why an Emergency March of Dimes is now being held.

tissue in them replace living animals.

To test a youngster's blood to see if it contains antibodies, or polio-fighting particles, scientists need three things: a suitable growing tissue in a test tube or other container, polio virus, and a sample of the blood.

The principle of the test is simple enough. If you add polio virus to growing tissue cells, the virus kills them, and you can detect this by looking at them through a microscope. If, however, you add a little blood containing anti-polio particles, these will protect the cells from the virus, and the cells will not die.

In practice, the tests are much more complicated. First, it takes a lot of careful preparation to make sure the virus is of the correct strength. Furthermore, everything must be done three times, because there are three types of polio virus. Finally, samples are tested by Dr. John F. Nearly 1,800,000 children are participating in the trial of the vaccine developed by Dr. Jonas E. Salk of the University of Pittsburgh. About 425,000 have received the vaccine. The others constitute a control group.

Records on the youngsters are being kept at the University of Michigan by Dr. Francis. In addition, detailed reports will be made on all instances of polio among those included in the study, whether or not they actually received the vaccine. Teams of specially trained physical therapists will evaluate possible paralysis in those who contract the disease.

A report on the vaccine's effectiveness is expected during the early part of 1955.

So They Say

Formosa is sacred soil of China and the Chinese people will never fail to liberate it. We believe the American (7th) fleet must be driven out of the Strait of Formosa!—Red China's Premier Chou Enlai.

NEWSPAPER—This is National Newspaper Week and an appropriate time to devote a column to the subject of you and your newspaper—or newspapers. For many people subscribe to or at least read more than one.

So much has been written concerning the newspapers' role in preserving freedom of information, freedom of thought, and freedom of speech, that we turn to other aspects of the subject.

One of the fundamental obligations of your newspaper is to give you the news—including information complete and detailed concerning local affairs. Without this service a newspaper is like a house with narrow windows, from which the occupants view little of the local scene.

The successful newspaper must present wide windows of information to its readers, opening the mind's eye to as much as it is possible for the newspaper to encompass within the limitations of its staff.

Newspaper stories of community, area, state, national and world affairs are the many windows in a big house. For reasons of space, sometimes a story can be given only a glance; for items of greater importance the reader is given a long and careful look.

OF CONTROVERSY — Newspaper readers often disagree with the picture presented to them by the newspaper.

Some readers criticize the newspaper because there are too many crime stories, others because there are too few book reviews or too little international news, and many want more comics and entertainment features.

Recognizing that a newspaper must serve the interests of many people, the wonder is that there is not more disagreement with the newspaper. There is also the necessity to inform readers of varying political, social, religious and cultural backgrounds.

It will make for better understanding if readers know that often their disagreement is with the situation presented by the newspaper story, rather than with the newspaper for presenting the story.

For the newspaper to ignore crime, for example, may please some readers—but such a head-in-the-sand attitude concerning crime will not halt crime or criminals. The story must be told if the people are to protect themselves.

WHAT YOU READ—Newspapers are not infallible and the people employed by a newspaper have inherited to some degree all human weakness—which is to say that mistakes can be and are made.

The error, however, cannot be ignored. In a newspaper it stands out in unchangeable print for all to see and read. This fact places a sobering sense of responsibility upon newspaper writers and editors.

No newspaper worthy of the name will fail to correct one of its own errors. In many instances the newspaper has printed corrections on items where responsibility for the error was not that of the newspaper but of the informant.

Despite the occasional error, people in the majority have confidence in the accuracy of the newspaper story. "I read it in the newspaper," plus presentation of a clipping, is often the proof that closes an argument.

Only newspapers with their large staff of newswriters and their membership in press services that girdle the globe can do an effective and comprehensive news-gathering job.

NEWS AND OPINION—Readers should also know that a sharp difference exists between the objective news story and the opinion of the commentator or columnist.

The columnist, the commentator, the so-called news analyst gives you the news as he sees it, sometimes with flourishes of personality and stylistic writing. His name appears above his writing.

In evaluating the news, read the columnists—as you would a newspaper's editorials—with the knowledge they represent opinion. Do not mistake the columnists as objective reporters on current events.

By the same token, the editorial writer and the columnist can and does give you interpretation and background you will seldom find in the news story.

Careful reading of your newspaper is a good investment in citizenship. But take time to get beyond the headlines or your newspaper will have given you only part of its treasure of information.

The Carlson house had been started during the past period when everyone in Colorado who had a few hundred thousand dollars to throw away had started building castles in the mountains. With the old part of the house as a firm bulwark, newer additions straggled down toward the lake and small boathouse beyond.

The winding road led to a carport before the newest part of the house. Mrs. Hilton came up while Jim and Nancy were getting out with their overnight bags.

"Where's the other woman?" Mrs. Hilton demanded.

"What other woman?" Jim asked.

"The other woman I saw yesterday," Mrs. Hilton snapped. "Dressed in black, dressed—"

She stopped abruptly and looked at Nancy again. She said, "That was you?"

Jim put in, "Distances make things deceptive. Or is it that things are distorted through binoculars?"

The complacency vanished. She said harshly, "Come on then, you women. I'll show you rooms."

Nancy, Mrs. Kit and Mrs. Gelstrap followed dutifully. Agnes and Jim remained with Philip Stoneman.

"Mrs. Oswald will see you," Philip said. He paused long enough to look at his expensive wrist watch. "In exactly 28 minutes. In her studio."

"We'll talk to you first then," Agnes said. "Come on, Mr. Dunn. You might as well listen. I want you to hear this."

They went to a small sunroom. Philip said, "Sit down." He took one of the straight chairs, Jim another. Agnes Argyle was confronted with a problem. She finally solved it, but she did not look at home in the contour chair.

Philip plugged in a gleaming silver percolator, left it and returned to his chair. "I've been thinking since you called, Agnes," he said. "I've talked to Mrs. Oswald too, of course. I guess I can really help you establish the fact that this was an accident. As far as all of us are concerned."

Jim noticed the use of her first name, and apparent terms of intimacy between Stoneman and the sheriff.

"We had a real party here last night," Philip explained. "The party didn't break up until the early hours, as the phrase has it. Almost daylight, in fact, before the carloads of guests and the servants pulled out for Denver."

"Go on," Agnes prodded. "It'd help if you'd tell me about the time Angelica—died."

"Between five and six," Agnes said promptly.

Jim felt his eyebrows going up. He thought that was a little too much cooperation between an officer of the law and the questioner.

Philip nodded. "That makes it even easier. The party didn't break up until five. And of course, there were the usual last-minute delays, the 'one for the road.' Say 5:30 by the time everyone was off. Agnes, you know how long it'd take anyone to walk around to The Spires. So—I guess that lets us all out."

"Why walk?" Jim asked. Philip smiled broadly. "There's my chum," he said. "I wondered if the cat had your tongue. I said walk, because that would have been the only way. You see, all the cars were gone, whooping it off filled with drunken guests in the care of the servants who could still see out of one eye. No cars here at all after 5:30 chum."

"We can check that," Agnes repeated. "But even so the round trip couldn't have been made by car. Not in the short time before breakfast."

Jim must have showed his bewilderment, because Philip chuckled. "If you're around here long enough, chum, you'll find we have only one inflexible rule, the one and only rule, made up at the moment to meet the situation. Mrs. Oswald makes decrees and backs them up by saying, "It's always been my rule to do so and so." Catch, chum? Breakfast at seven sharp is the present rule and has been all this summer. So this morning of course could not be an exception. We breakfasted at seven. How well I know! It was up to me to get it, and I barely had time for a shower and a change of clothes before I had to start my culinary masterpiece. Shrimp chow mein and scrambled eggs."

"How about the boat?" Dunn demanded.

Philip shook his head. "The boat wasn't used. I'll show you why I know. And, before you bring it up, I'll admit it isn't too far to swim if a person would keep close to that sheer cliff that separates these two places. Maybe three or four blocks. But you just try it, chum. That water's ice, pure ice. The lake is deep and the water always cold. No. I don't think you can consider swimming seriously, chum."

Philip then led Jim and Agnes outside, along the path to the small boathouse.

The smell of paint and varnish had warned Jim what to expect. Nevertheless he touched a finger to various spots on the boat and the oars. The varnish was nearly dry, but still tacky. The paint on the oars was still wetter, left a red stain on his finger. Dunn noticed a small smear on one of the oars as if someone else had tested the dryness of the paint.

A MATTER OF PLAY

A risky bid should have turned out well for South in the deal below, but he "missed the point" in the play.

East dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.

♠ A Q 9 4	♥ 9 3 2	♦ 5 4 3 2	♣ Q 7
♠ 8 7 6	♥ 5 2	♦ 7 4	♣ J 10 9
♠ N	♥ E	♦ W	♣ S
♠ 10	♥ A K J 8 6 5	♦ Q 7	♣ A 5 4 3

The bidding:
East 1 NT
South 3♥
West Pass
North 4♥

It would have been considerably safer for South to double the no-trump rather than leap to three hearts. However, as it happened, South's actual bid should have had full success.

West opened the diamond jack; East collected the king and ace, and though South's queen dropped, he could do nothing better than continue the diamond suit. Declarer ruffed, drew trumps in two rounds, and then, since he could not hope to ruff enough clubs with the single trump remaining in dummy—he assumed, correctly, that the club king was offside—he decided to take the spade finesse with the hope of discarding a club on the spade ace. Unfortunately, East smothered the spade queen and returned his last diamond, and the contract became hopeless.

Better card-placing by South would have changed this result radically. After drawing trumps, South should lead to the spade ace, return dummy's last diamond and when East covers, make him a present of the trick, discarding a club from the closed hand. Now if East leads back a club, declarer lets the lead ride to the queen; or if East lays down the spade king South ruffs, goes to dummy with a trump and discards two clubs on the queen and nine of spades, since East's jack drops on the queen.

The original notrump by East marked the position of virtually every honor card, and by taking advantage of this marked distribution, South easily could have made his game contract.

Peters-Harris Wedding Rites Held Saturday

Miss Beverly T. Peters and Stanley Paul Harris repeated their marriage vows in a 10 a. m. single ring ceremony Saturday, Oct. 2, at St. Patrick's Church in Escanaba. Father Francis A. Hollenbach solemnized the service.

The ceremony was followed by a breakfast for immediate family members and close friends at the Delta Hotel. The afternoon reception from 2 to 5 for 200 guests was held at the Eagles Club Rooms.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo F. Peters, 604 S. 13th St., Escanaba, wore a ballerina length gown of coronation blue taffeta with a scooped neckline and overskirt of net. Her hat and accessories were the same shade. Her single strand of pearls was a gift of the bridegroom. She carried pink roses on a lace covered prayer book.

Matron of Honor

Her sister, Mrs. W. R. Benson of Escanaba, matron of honor, wore a Dior blue taffeta ballerina length dress with a scooped neckline. Her accessories were navy blue velvet. Pink roses formed her colonial bouquet.

David Harris of Wilson was best man for his brother. They are sons of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Harris of Wilson. Completing the bridal party were Donald Trotter and Joe Ponjalek, who ushered.

Mrs. Peters selected a red and black suit ensemble with black accessories and a corsage of red roses for her daughter's wedding. The bridegroom's mother was attired in navy blue and her corsage was like flowers.

The music of the wedding service was sung by St. Patrick's Choir with Miss Jeannette Geigel, soloist, and Mrs. William Ramspeck, organist.

Assisting at Reception

Presiding at the silver service during the reception was Mrs. Elaine Martin.

When the newlyweds left for their honeymoon the bride was wearing a brown suit with brown accessories and a champagne colored coat. They will live at 226 N. 11th St. in Escanaba.

Here for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. E. Anderson and Mrs. Albert Reaach, Norway, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Thomas, Milwaukee, Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Groleau, Flint, Mr. and Mrs. W. Keyspin and Ray P. Benson, Gary, Ind.

Today's Recipes

Here is another recipe for green tomato mincemeat for your collection. It comes from Marie Johnson of Kiva.

Green Tomato Mincemeat

1 peck green tomatoes
1 quart sliced apples, fresh or dried
1 pound seedless raisins
Salt
1 pound suet chopped
Cinnamon nutmeg and cloves
2½ pounds brown sugar
3 lemons
Wash tomatoes. Cut in small pieces. Sprinkle with salt, let stand overnight and drain. Add sufficient water to prevent sticking and cook 30 minutes, stirring frequently. Add lemon juice, grated rind of one lemon and white of one lemon cut in small pieces. Add apples, suet, raisins and sugar, spices to taste and a few grains of salt. Simmer slowly stirring frequently until tomatoes and apples are tender and flavors are blended. Pack in sterilized jars and seal.

LOSE UGLY FAT TODAY

Amazing New Safe Discovery Makes

REDUCING EASY

FOR MEN AND WOMEN

Everyone is talking about the new reducing sensation HUNGER TABLETS.

Science now helps you take off your fat while you eat the foods you choose. HUNGER TABLETS make you lose ugly fat, pounds and inches of it, without dieting or hunger—and it will not affect the heart.

Think of it! With HUNGER TABLETS you no longer count calories, you forget all about diets. Fat goes fast from all over the body! All you do is swallow two HUNGER TABLETS before each meal followed by a glass of water—and eat the foods you like.

And you don't have to worry about HUNGER TABLETS—it is absolutely safe—it is a food adjunct—not a drug.

The War 10 Years Ago

OCT. 4-18, 1954

In the battle for Germany, Allied armies were unable to dent appreciably the Siegfried defenses throughout October. On Oct. 7 at least 5,500 Allied warplanes converged on Germany from bases in Italy and Britain to ravage Axis industrial and military targets from Vienna to the Baltic. In southwestern France, Bordeaux was firmly in French hands, Oct. 12 dispatches said. On the eastern European front, Russian troops broke into Hungary on a 73-mile front on Oct. 6 and within five days captured Szeged and Cluj. Russian armies captured the Latvian capital of Riga on Oct. 13 and surrounded Memel in Lithuania to end shortly thereafter all Baltic states. On Oct. 18 the Red Army smashed through the Carpathian Mountains on a 171-mile front into Czechoslovakia. In Italy rains turned the northern roads into quagmires and made a war of movement virtually impossible in October. In Greece, Athens and the nearby port of Piraeus were liberated by British and Greek troops. In the Pacific, Philippine pre-invasion operations were under way. On Oct. 12, Adm. William F. Halsey's 3rd U. S. Fleet and Vice Adm. Marc A. Mitscher's task force began a sweeping series of assaults against Formosa, the Ryukyu Islands, the Pescadores and Luzon in the Philippines. Some 228 enemy ships were reported sunk or damaged in four days of raids on the enemy bases, and 493 planes were claimed to have been destroyed.

Found Newspaper Very Interesting

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—John Nagin, 49, leaned on a pinball machine in a liquor store here and read his newspaper. A man walked in, pulled a gun on the proprietor, James Hawkins, 54, and commanded, "Get over by the cash register and give me your money." The bandit took $215, forced Hawkins into the rest room and left. Nagin later told police. "I didn't see or hear a thing. I was too interested in my newspaper."

Which Part is most important?

THE ANSWER, as you know, is that the engine and the steering wheel are equally important. If either part were missing, the car couldn't function.

The same principle applies to our American industrial system: it takes both "Capital" and "Labor" to make it work.

With willing investors to provide tools, and skilled workers to man them efficiently, American industry has reached the highest level of production in history — and Americans enjoy the highest living standard.

Would any reasonable person deny the investor's right to a fair return for risking his savings, any more than the worker's right to a fair wage? Of course not.

Communists, however, aren't reasonable people. They desperately want to break up our "winning combination." But when they trot out their phony arguments, trying to set one group against another, Americans just look around them and reply "Our system really gives us what you only promise. We like what we've got — and we'll keep it!"

What Does The Escanaba Daily Press Offer In The Line of Merchandising Support of Advertisers?

We cooperate extensively in this helpful program by distributing regular trade bulletins and providing valuable market data to national advertisers. We attempt in every way possible to provide research data and local merchandising service.

Here are some of the services we offer:

- Provide monthly bulletins to retail outlets in our trading area. In September, 1954, we issued 102 bulletins to grocery and drug stores, advising them of the national ads currently being published in the Press.

- Tie-in solicitations are made by the Press advertising staff regularly. National advertisers provide mats that can be incorporated in regular retail advertisements.

- Reprints of ads, furnished by national advertisers, are mailed to local stores that handle the particular product. This offers the retailer the opportunity of setting up tie-in merchandising in advance of publication of the ad.

We are happy to be of service to both the national advertiser and the local retailer . . .

City Plans More Work Yet This Year; Many Projects Are Finished

Blacktopping of six blocks of city streets, replacement of sidewalk in front of the high school, renewal of street lighting from the bridge to Main street, and installation of water main and hydrants in Fairview cemetery are among projects the city hopes to initiate yet this year, Orson Livermore, city manager reports.

The street light project on River Street, Livermore said, will be completed this fall, if weather permits when crews can be assigned to it. Poles, ducts and luminaires have arrived for the lights, and other material is on order.

The blacktopping schedule calls for surfacing on Walnut, from Maple to Range and on Deer from 5th to 9th. The work will be done if an asphalt company brings its machines here this fall, the manager stated. Otherwise, it will be done next spring, he explained.

Sidewalks Fixed

The city also plans to lay 600 feet of water main in Fairview cemetery, he added, and to install 12 new hydrants there.

Work already accomplished by city crews this year includes complete rehabilitation of the lighting system on the West end, from Chippewa to 5th on Deer. Poles were added, concrete standards replaced, re-wiring on overhead lines was completed, and luminaires were repaired and renewed, the manager pointed out.

Street projects this summer included widening and regrading of one block on Walnut St., and replacement of curb there; replacement of curb on Lake to Range St., rebuilding of grade on two blocks on Alger St., and regrading of two blocks on Deer, all in preparation for surfacing; and regrading and resurfacing of three blocks on Garden, from Cattaraugus to US-2.

Special assessment work on sidewalks cost about $4,000, and included projects on Cherry, and Washington.

New Cemetery Lots

City crews also installed 175 feet of 4-inch water main and 8-inch sewer line on the west end of Arbutus and 660 feet of sewer lines on Deer, from 5th to 7th. Both were special assessment projects.

During the past few months, city workers have installed two low-lift and one high lift pumps at the new water pumping station, have put in necessary valves and piping, and electric controls, the manager said.

Measuring Unit Is Installed At New Water Plant

A venturia tube to measure the volume of water pumped by the city water station has been installed and the meter attachments for it will be put in place shortly, Orson Livermore, city manager reports.

The tube fits in the main pressure line in the lower section of the station and the meter is mounted on the first floor, he explained.

Average water consumption in Manistique is 900,000 gallons per day, and during peak periods runs to approximately 1,250,000 gallons per day, Livermore said.

Eskymos Lose Rugged Contest At Menominee 20-13; Played In Mud

By RAY CRANDALL
MENOMINEE—The Escanaba Eskymos dropped a 20-13 decision to the Menominee Maroons here Saturday night in what will go down in history as one of the toughest games in the oldest football rivalry in the Upper Peninsula.

Rain fell on Walton Blesch field here steadily for 4 hours before the contest and continued without letup through the entire game. Players of both teams were smeared from head to foot with mud, grime, rain and sweat. The football was a sodden chunk of leather and the gridiron was a mire of mud.

Even in defeat the Eskymos played probably their best football game in recent years. They battled a favored Menominee team tooth and nail and came out on the short end of the score but on the long end of the statistics. Escanaba outgained Menominee in total offense, 173 yards to 159.

Maroons Rally To Win
It took a raging third period for Menominee to pull out of a 13-6 hole. The Maroons came out in the second half like a bolt of lightning to score twice on the Eskymos before the third period ended. And that was their margin of victory, as the teams struggled through a scoreless fourth quarter. The few hardy Eskymo fans in attendance groaned as Menominee took the opening kickoff and marched 50 yards to score in three minutes.

With the rain pelting steadily and the field becoming more and more a mud-hole, it appeared that Menominee's six points were going to be a huge factor. But on the second play of the second period Escanaba's hopes came alive in a hurry.

Manske Goes 70 Yards
A Menominee punt had driven the Eskymos deep in their own territory near the end of the first period. Quarterback Jim Beck tested the Menominee line twice with short slants and then called on left halfback Dale Manske for the payoff play. Manske bolted through the Maroon front wall and threaded his way through the secondary without a hand on him. In the clear at midfield, Manske poured on the coal to complete a 70-yard touchdown run that tied the score at 6-6.

Minutes later the Maroons found themselves in hot water when Eskymo end Jim Mongrain clobbered through the line to block a punt and downed the ball on the Menominee 23.

On seven running plays the Eskymos reached the Menominee one-yard line. But the first of a series of costly fumbles stopped the threat and Menominee's Harold Rosene recovered.

But the Eskymos were not to be denied and a half-dozen plays later halfback Bob Bero intercepted a pass on the Menominee 30 and skidded to the 24 before going down.

Beck Fools Maroons
Beck fooled every player on the Menominee team by lofting a bulls-eye pass to fullback Dave Judson who went over unmolested to put Escanaba ahead 12-6. The play covered 21 yards. Manske ran for the point to make it 13-6. Only 15 second remained in the first half.

The Maroons played like wild men in the third period. The first time they got their hands on the ball they went over for a touchdown. Reginald Peterson ploughed through the Eskymo line for 11 yards and fumbled the ball, but officials ruled his forward progress had been stopped. Menominee's Bill Peshek ripped through the line on three successive plays to score from 38 yards out. His last plunge was from inside the one-yard line. Gary LeBrache plunged for the extra point to tie it up at 13-13.

Fumble-itis struck the Eskymos a cruel blow at this stage of the rugged ball game. The Eskymos lost possession of the ball on fumbles twice before the third period ended, and the second time Menominee took advantage of the break to score the winning TD.
Beck juggled a pass from center and the ball squirted out of his hands at the 10-yard line. Ben Miller recovered for the Maroons and in two plays Allan Defaut, deaf mute who serves Coach Ken Radick as a "spot player," went through a huge hole to score standing up.

Stage Late Threat

Escanaba threatened late in the final period after Bob DeMars recovered a Maroon fumble at midfield. Garry Gillespie and Manske alternated on the ground to reach the 25-yard line but Gillespie fumbled and Menominee recovered. Escanaba had the ball again briefly in the fading seconds of the game when Keith Moline recovered a Menominee bobble.

In all, the Eskymos fumbled the ball away five times in the game. The Maroons lost the slippery oval only twice on fumbles.

Beck's passing was nothing short of sensational considering the weather. He threw eight and completed four for 48 yards, including the payoff pitch to Judson in the second period.

Manske was the game's leading ground gainer with 96 yards on 10 carries. Peshek led Menominee with 83.

Weather conditions at Menominee Saturday night were almost impossible for football . . . Jim Ripley, veteran Menominee Herald Leader sports editor, said that was the first time since the lights were installed in 1946 that rain fell throughout an entire game . . . "I've seen it rain harder than this, but never this hard this long," Ripley said.

At one point in the game a penalty was called on the field and somebody in the press box asked what it was for . . . A wise guy came back: "Holding his head under water."

Brewer Paces Gladstone To 27-8 Win Over Redmen

GLADSTONE—Paced by Captain Tom Brewer, hard-driving fullback, who rolled up 200 yards from scrimmage, the Gladstone Braves ground out a 28-7 victory over the Marquette Gravelers at Marble Athletic Field Saturday afternoon. It was the third victory of the season and the third Great Lakes Conference win for Coach Don Pfotenbauer's eleven.

J. D. Pierce, Marquette, nosed the Gladstone Bees, 6-0 in the preliminary.

The Braves scored in each quarter, Brewer on runs of 16 and 52 yards. Jim Bratonia from the 6 and Norm Butler from the 35 after intercepting a pass into the flat. Roger Carlson had a perfect day and booted four out of four. The Redmen scored in the second period on a 10-play, 62-yard drive, featured by the running of Peter Hauserman and Bruce Micklow with the latter going over from the five. A pass for the extra point was good.

Marquette proved a stubborn foe and the game was closer than the score would indicate. Gladstone made 10 first downs to 7 for Marquette but "breaks" were numerous and the alert Braves capitalized on them. There were 14 fumbles in the game, 8 by Gladstone and 6 by Marquette, and the Braves recovered 5 of their own and 5 of Marquette's.

Scores on Lateral

Gladstone's first counter came midway in the first period. Brewer recovered a Marquette fumble on Marquette's 34. Walter Houghton ran left end for 17 and a first on the 17. Bratonia was stopped after a half yard. A pass to End John Quinn was over his head in the end zone. A pass to Quinn was good and he lateraled to Brewer who drove over in the corner of the field with 2 tacklers hanging onto him. Carlson's kick was accurate and the Braves led, 7-0.

The Braves second tally came in the second period after a Marquette punt was returned by Bratonia to his own 48. Bratonia fumbled but recovered for no gain. Brewer then shot through tackle, cut to the left and with good blocking went down the east sideline for 52 yards and a touchdown. Carlson again booted the placement and the Braves led 14-0.

Marquette's Redmen bounced right back Hauserman returned the kickoff 20 yards to his 38. Micklow got 5 and a pass, Hauserman to Micklow, was good for a first down on the Braves 47. Micklow drove 7 to the 40 and repeated for 1. On his next try he went 8 to the 24 and another first down. Hauserman got 3 and another Marquette back got 2 to the 19. Hauserman then pitched to Roger LeDue, who was playing with one hand in a cast, and

Central Scores Easy Victory Over Calumet

Catholic Central shrugged off Calumet's inept Copper Kings 33-0 here Saturday afternoon and eyed bigger game coming up next weekend.

Central moved the ball at will against Calumet, with the one-two scoring punch of Bill Lancour and Jim Greenwood scoring four of the six touchdowns. Quarterback John Berrigan and halfback Bob Rodman also joined the scoring act.

Next Sunday afternoon Central will face what is undoubtedly the toughest assignment of the year. Coach Ted Fritsch's Green Bay Central Catholic Cadets will be here to meet Coach Tom St. Germain's Central gridders in a 2 o'clock game at the Escanaba Athletic Field.

Well-Balanced Attack

In scoring their third win against one loss this season, Central gridders displayed power and speed on offense and a fine passing game. Central ran for 165 yards on the ground and added 160 through the air. One of the six touchdowns was scored on a pass play.

Defensively, Central was effective whenever Calumet threatened to score. St. Germain made extensive use of his bench throughout the game and reserves were in action in both the third and fourth periods in which Calumet picked up most of its 186 total yardage.

Fullback Greenwood scored the first Central touchdown three minutes after the opening kickoff. Halfback Lancour took the kickoff 35 yards to the Calumet 46 and Central drove to the three-yard line from where Greenwood dented the Calumet line for the score. Lancour fired a key pass to end Joe Juetten to account for 33 yards during the TD drive. Greenwood passed to Juetten for the extra point, 7-0.

Venne Grabs Fumble

Calumet's Mike Kaifesh fumbled moments later and Mike Venne recovered for Central on the Calumet 11. Lancour scampered over on the first play from scrimmage to make it 13-0.

Calumet managed to penetrate Central territory late in the first period but Mike Venne again gave Central possession by recovering a fumble by Ray Garrow on the 37.

Greenwood pitched a perfect strike to Lancour who zig-zagged 50 yards into Calumet territory, being stopped on the Calumet 18.

An offside penalty opening the second period put Central on the Calumet one-yard line and Rodman blasted through center for the touchdown. A pass for the extra point failed and Central led 19-0.

71-Yard March

Calumet drove to the Central 29 midway in the second period but Central's defenses stiffened and the Copper Kings surrendered the ball on downs.

Central then marched 71 yards to score shortly before the half. Included in the march were runs of 32 yards by Greenwood, and 19 yards by Lancour. The payoff play started on the Calumet 13 with Lancour passing to Juetten who lateraled to Greenwood. Berrigan added the extra point on a keeper and Central's lead was 26-0.

The third period was confined to the midfield area but late in the frame Calumet was forced to punt after Juetten had belted Roger Arola for a 14-yard loss. Lancour returned the kick 11 yards to midfield. Two more pass plays and short jolts by Lancour and Berrigan moved the ball to the 12. Lancour shot through on a quick opener to score standing up and then ran the extra point make it 33-0 on the first play of the fourth quarter.

Calumet almost scored against the Central subs when Matt Kaifesh broke loose for a 41-yard run to the Central 2 where he was brought down hard by Cliff O'Donnell. Kaifesh fumbled the ball and John Vadnaier recovered for Central.

Lancour Leads Runners

Calumet again put on a drive that crossed midfield and the visitors reached the eight-yard line before they were thrown back for four successive losses and gave up the ball on the 22.

Lancour led the Central ground attack with 102 yards on 11 trips with the ball. Greenwood carried only eight times for 48 yards.

The Central air attack was deadly with Juetten doing most of the receiving. Central fired 20 passes and completed 11. Calumet also fired well on passes, hitting six of 10 attempts.

Leading the defense that kept Calumet from crossing the Central goal line were Leroy Villeneuve, Lancour, Juetten, Arnold Henriksen, and Venne. Gerald Ford, freshman guard, and Frank Katrinski, freshman halfback, also contributed sound defensive play for Central.

Cardinals Win Playoff Trophy

MANISTIQUE—The Manistique Cardinals won their second straight Bay de Noc League playoff championship here yesterday, bringing the best-of-three series to an abrupt close by nipping Cocks 3-1. The Cards had won the series opener 7-4.

Classy pitching and timely hitting by Don Carlson sparked the Cards to their title victory. The Manistique chucker allowed Cocks only three singles, fanned 13 batters and issued two walks. He drove in two of the three Cardinals runs with his two hits and a sacrifice fly.

The Cards tied off on Joe Halverson for nine hits. Rudy Brandstrom and Mason Rhoads also had a pair of safeties each for the champs.

Manistique scored singletons in the first and second innings. Cocks narrowed the lead to 2-1 in the third when Popur was safe on an error, stole second, advanced to third on a long fly and scored on a passed ball.

The Cards scored an insurance run in the sixth. Rhoads was safe on an error, moved to second on Lesica's bunt and scored on Carlson's second hit over shortstop.

League commissioner Joseph Griffin of Cocks presented the playoff trophy to the Cardinals after the game.

Irish Made Too Many Errors Says Brennan

By JOE MOOSHL
SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Notre Dame's Terry Brennan, a young coach who experienced his trade's ups and downs in the short period of eight days, says his Irish made too many mistakes in their 27-14 loss to Purdue but adds, "We'll be a good team."

Judging from Notre Dame's up coming schedule, the Irish are going to have to be a good team. In eight remaining games, Notre Dame comes up against such powers as Michigan State, Iowa, Navy and Southern Cal.

And that's not mentioning Pitt, Saturday's opponent.

Dawson Deadly

Brennan, who made his coaching debut with a 21-0 triumph over Texas, saw the roof cave in Saturday as a 19-year-old sophomore Len Dawson, fired four touchdown passes against the Irish.

"We made too many mistakes," said Brennan. "We didn't play as

Chicago Bears Rally To Beat Packers, 10-3

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP)—The Chicago Bears rallied for 10 points in the fourth quarter Sunday to defeat the Green Bay Packers, 10-3, in a National Football League game played on a rain-soaked field.

The Bears took advantage of a Packer fumble late in the third period to start a rally that wiped out the Packers' three point lead.

Paul Lipscomb fell on Tobin Rote's fumble on the Packer seven yard line. Quarterback George Blanda opened the fourth quarter with a five yard touchdown pass to Billy Stone and kicked the extra point to put the Bears ahead.

Blanda also kicked a field goal from the 23-yard line midway in the final period.

Green Bay scored its three points in the third quarter on a 40-yard field goal by Fred Cone.

Ex-Gridder In Ring Spotlight Tonight

By MURRAY ROSE
NEW YORK (AP)—Charley Powell the young California strongboy rated as a possible threat to heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano in another year, steps into the national spotlight Wednesday night against Charley Norkus, the Port Washington, N.Y. trial horse.

The 22-year old, 6-3, 215-pounder, who deserted pro football for boxing, will show his stuff via coast to coast television (CBS-TV, 9 p.m. CST) on Wednesday night in a 10-rounder with the 26-year old New Yorker. San Francisco is the site.

This will be the giant Negro's 13th pro fight. He was held to a draw in his first and has won 11 straight, nine by knockouts. His kayo victims include Frankie Buford and Keene Simmons.

Norkus Beat Brion

Norkus, wild-swinging and hard hitting, whipped another giant, Argentina's Cesar Brion, in a 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden, Sept. 3. It was Norkus' 24th victory against 12 defeats. He has 14 KOs to his credit. Charley is 5-11 and weighs 196.

Boardwalk Billy Smith, another exciting fighter, will get his opportunity to show his wares when he takes on Harold Johnson, the top-ranking light heavyweight contender from Philadelphia, at the Philadelphia Arena Friday night. This 9 p.m. CST, 10-rounder, will be broadcast and telecast by NBC.

a unit."

Although the Irish were rated as much as 20 point favorites over the Boilermakers, an upset was predicted even before the season opener.

A member of the Texas caravan said in Chicago prior to the Texas game "I wish we were playing them the second game instead of the first. They'll be up for Brennan but could letdown after that. Don't be too surprised if they beat us and then lose to Purdue."

Brennan Was Worried

And that's exactly what Brennan was afraid of. Following the Purdue game, Brennan said "we have been afraid of complacency all week."

Stu Holcomb, Purdue's jubilant coach, went all out in praising his team and Dawson.

"There's nothing better than Dawson anywhere," said Holcomb. "I would say our club is pretty good. If this isn't a test then there is no test in football."

Brennan, too, was impressed with Dawson. "He should be very tough in Big Ten competition. He's a fine quarterback," said the Irish coach.

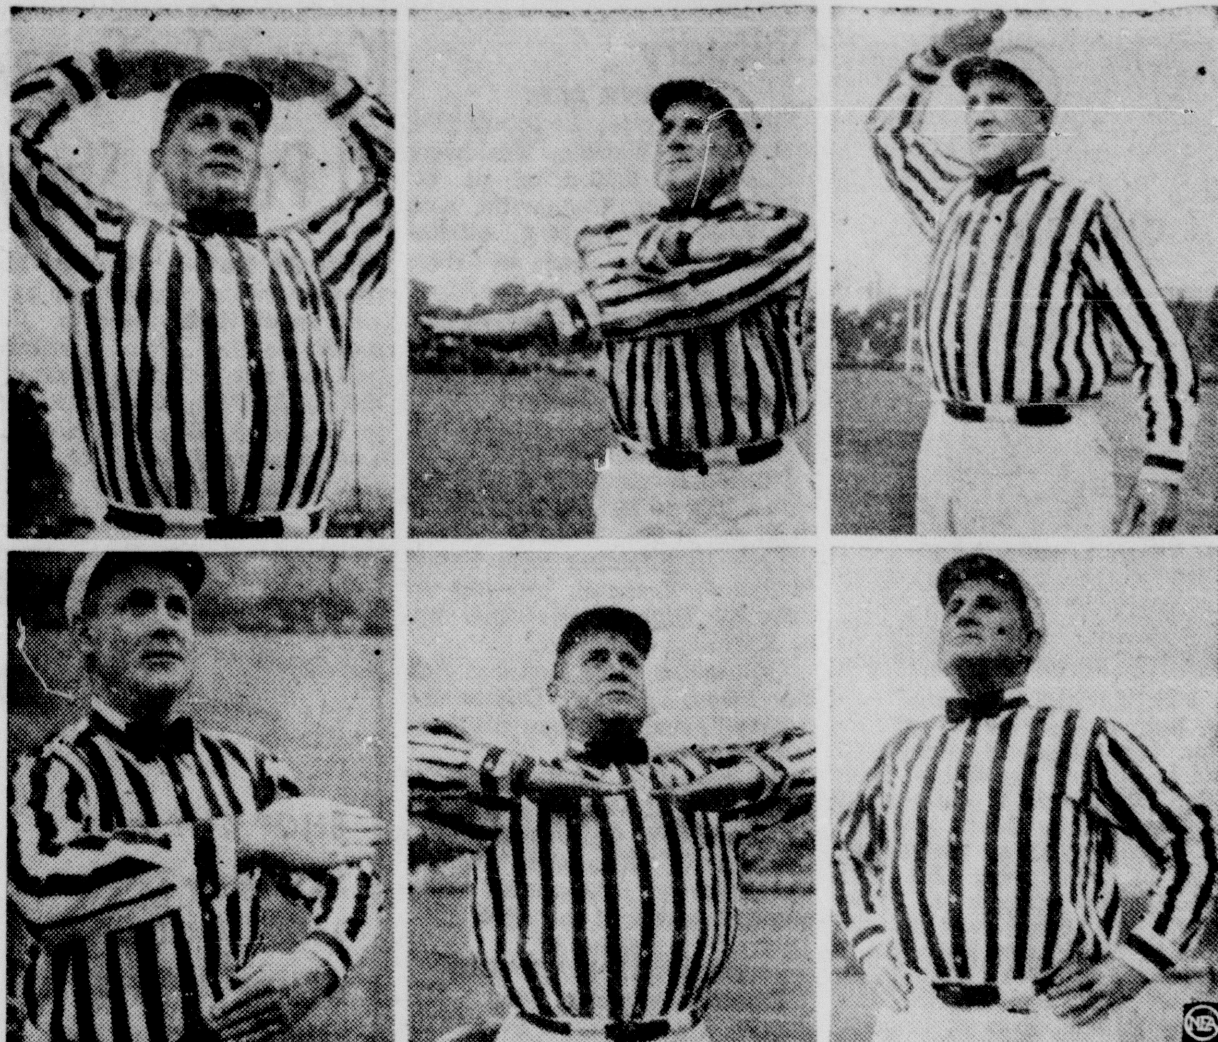

And the records also back Dawson. In two college games against Missouri and Notre Dame he has completed 18 of 29 passes good for 396 yards and eight touch-downs.

But Dawson doesn't want all the credit. In praising his teammates and coach, Dawson said:

"His pass patterns are perfect. He's a great coach and I think we've got the patterns for any kind of defense. We've got a fine group of pass receivers and nobody could ask for better pass protection than I've been getting."

Victory Over Irish No Flake This Time

By ED CORRIGAN
AP Sports Writer

Four years ago Purdue snapped a Notre Dame unbeaten streak at 39 games. That Boilermaker club won only one more game that season, so the suspicion was that it was one of those flukes that happen every so often.

This year they broke a modest Notre Dame unbeaten streak of 13 games and in the process handed 26-year-old Terry Brennan his first defeat as a varsity college coach. This one, you may be sure, was no fluke.

Coach Stu Holcomb has a solid club, several good veterans and a fine crop of sophomores headed by the fantastic Len Dawson, who in his first two games has pitched eight touchdown passes. He completed 7 of 12 in the Boilermakers' 27-14 conquest of the Irish.

Duke Is Next

After whipping both Missouri and Notre Dame, the Boilermakers play host this week to Duke, which also has won both its games. The Blue Devils beat Penn in their opener and nipped Tennessee 7-6 Saturday. On that basis, Purdue should rule the solid favorite.

The Irish will try to pick up the pieces this week against Pitt. Notre Dame has plenty of company. Maryland, the 1953 national champion, was flattened by UCLA last Friday. Texas, Illinois, Michigan State and Georgia Tech also have fallen.

Illinois dropped a 12-2 decision to Stanford Saturday and the Spartans were beaten by Wisconsin 6-0. All this portends nothing but trouble ahead for Oklahoma, the perennial Big Seven champion and No. 2 team behind Notre Dame in last week's Associated Press poll.

Sooners Undefeated

The Sooners have a clean slate, having taken the measure of both California and Texas Christian. Their date this week is with Texas, which rebounded smartly from its Notre Dame loss to overwhelm Washington State 40-14.

Iowa, the third-ranking team in the country, faces Michigan this week after an easy 48-6 conquest of Montana. The Wolverines themselves were victims of one of the big upsets of the day when they dropped a 26-7 decision to Army.

UCLA, Maryland's conqueror, visits Washington, while the defeated Terps will try to regain some prestige at Wake Forest.

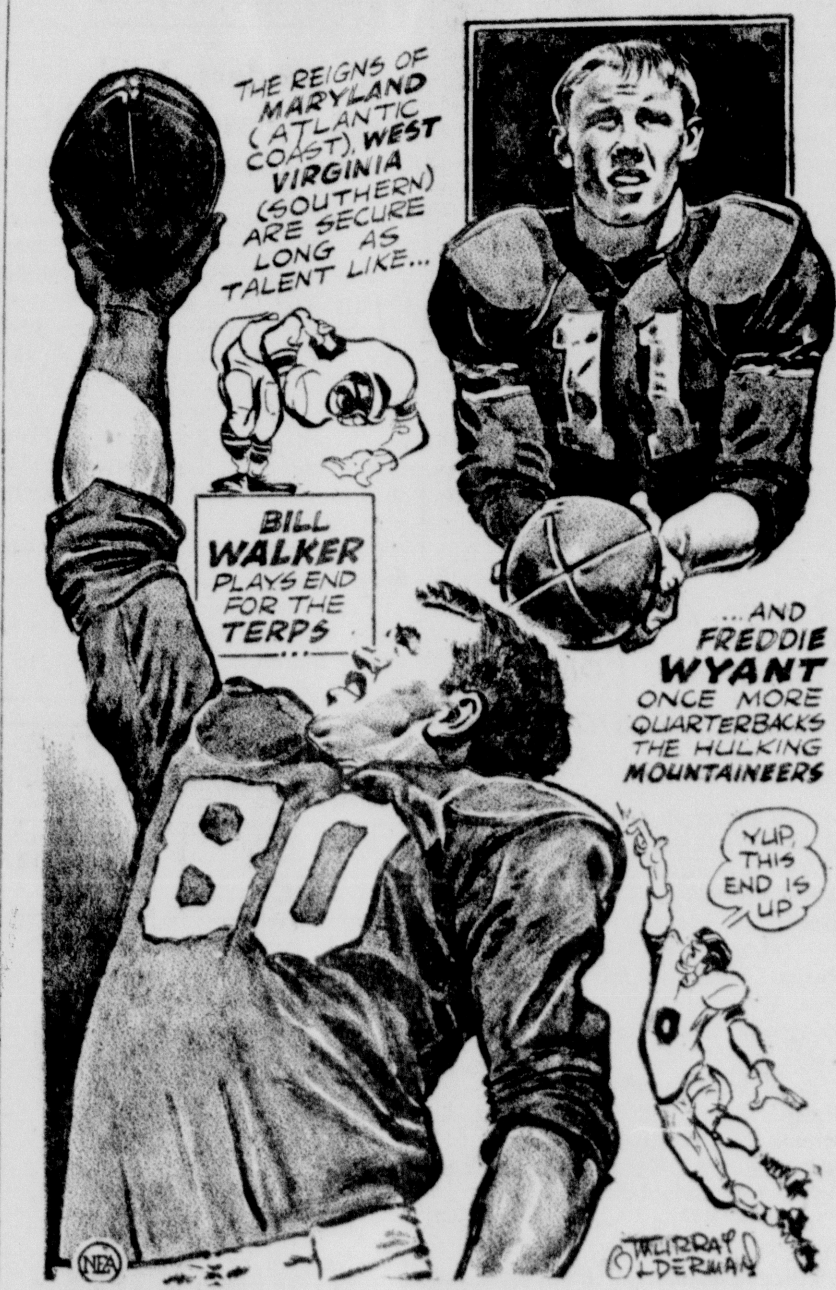

Miss Looks Good

Mississippi, the eighth-rated team in the AP poll, looked powerful thrashing Villanova 52-0 and should do just as well against Vanderbilt.

Southern California, a pretender to the Pacific Coast crown, still is unbeaten after three games and figures to extend the streak against Texas Christian Friday night.

Penn State, which looks like about the best the East has to offer, dropped Syracuse 13-0 and goes after its third straight against Virginia.

SECURE REIGNS

Wertz Has Cleveland's First Base Next Year

By BEN PHLEGAR

CLEVELAND (AP)—Vic Wertz has the first-base job with the Cleveland Indians sewed up for next season but he said today he's going "to work like a dog" to earn the right to keep it.

"I'll make it. I gotta make it and I'm going to make it. I'll take dancing lessons all winter if it'll help," he said.

The 29-year-old Pennsylvanian was the only bright spot in the World Series collapse of the Cleveland Indians. He led both clubs in hits with eight, four of them in the first game, and his .500 average was tops among the regulars.

Seventh Year

After seven seasons in the majors as an outfielder, Wertz appeared headed for oblivion with the Baltimore Orioles until he was traded suddenly on June 1 to the Indians.

Durocher Will Be Back With Giants Next Year

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP)—Leo Durocher, manager of the world champion New York Giants, will be back at the helm in 1955.

Scotching all rumors he intended to quit the Giants and leave baseball entirely, Durocher promises he'll be back seeking a second straight pennant next year.

The triumphant manager, who did a more thorough job of routing the Indians than such old Red-skin fighters as Daniel Boone, Davey Crockett and Wild Bill Cody combined, left Sunday night for his Beverly Hills, Calif., home for a well deserved rest. He was accompanied by his beautiful actress wife, Laraine, and their two children, Michele and Chris.

No Other Plans

"I have absolutely no plans of doing anything other than holding the job I have," he said before leaving. "I expect to be in Phoenix (Ariz.) next spring."

Rumors throughout the regular season persisted that Durocher and his boss, President Horace Stoneham of the Giants, weren't exactly on chummy terms. But they were Saturday when Stoneham embraced Leo in the clubhouse after the Giants had applied the crusher.

In between hugs and kisses, the elated Giant owner lauded Leo for his brilliant masterminding in the series, a feeling that was shared by all baseball people.

The Giants played wonderful ball and deserved to win," said Cleveland manager Al Lopez generously. "They also have a great leader in Leo Durocher."

Dark Praises Manager

"The boys played great, and I'm proud of them," said team captain Alvin Dark. "But don't forget, it was Leo, with a brilliant job of managing, who put us into the series. And he was never better than in that series.

It was Durocher who moved Whitey Lockman away from first base in perfect position to grab Bob Lemon's drive in the ninth inning of the first game with the leading run on third base.

It was Leo, too, who kept the "hot" Rhodes on the bench for availability in time of need. He also had a clean slate in his choice of relief pitchers. First Marv Grissom then Hoyt Wilhelm, Wilhelm again and finally Johnny Antonelli stopped Indian uprisings.

The world championship was the first for Durocher in 15 years of managing. He copped pennants in 1941 with Brooklyn, and in 1951 with New York, but lost the world series each time to the Yankees.

Two Warmup Losses Settled, Michigan Eyes Big Ten Sked

ANN ARBOR (AP)—With its two so-called "pushover warmup" games in the background, Michigan's football team today looked toward its Big Ten opener with Iowa next Saturday.

It was the Cadets from Army who forgot they were two-touchdown underdogs Saturday and crushed the Wolverines 26-7.

Michigan was completely outmanned and outclassed as the Cadets scored three times in the first half on close end thrusts by Mike Zeigler, Pat Uebel and Tommy Bell.

Kramer Standout

Michigan's showing was not without its high points, however.

Ron Kramer, the 210-pound sophomore from East Detroit who stands at right end, gathered in four of Michigan's eight passes and lateraled to Ed Hickey to score on a 46-yard pass play.

Kramer's defensive play also was outstanding, even though it was of little value against the brute grunter power the Cadets displayed in rushing 263 yards to Michigan's 71.

Stroh's Beer Again National Keg Champ

TOLEDO, Ohio. (AP)—Stroh's Beer of Detroit won the National five man team elimination Sunday game bowling tournament Saturday night with a 12-game score of 11,881 pins. It was the third straight year Stroh's has won the contest sponsored by the Bowling Proprietors' Association of America.

Stroh's and runner-up Maibach Furniture of Akron, Ohio, will meet in a 24-game home-and-home playoff match for the national team championship Nov. 27-28 at Akron and Dec. 4-5 in Detroit. Maibach, finished with 11,813.

Eight Big Ten Teams Will Tangle Saturday

CHICAGO (AP)—Iowa and Ohio State, presently ranked with Wisconsin and Purdue as favorites in the Big Ten, head a list of eight teams which tangle in conference games Saturday.

The Hawkeyes, with one conference victory under their belts and a 48-6 conquest of Montana, will be out to avenge last year's 14-13 last minute loss to Michigan.

It might not be much of a task. Iowa is loaded and the Wolverines show indications of being one of Michigan's weakest post-war teams. After a 14-0 victory over Washington, Pacific Coast weak stick, Michigan was trounced by Army, 26-7.

Illini Face Buckeyes

Illinois, stung with two non-conference losses, opens defense of its co-championship against powerful Ohio State. The Buckeyes are riding high with victories over Indiana and California.

Picked as a dark horse earlier this year, Ohio State has been stamped a definite contender since Illinois and Michigan State, Rose Bowl champ, don't seem to have it.

In the other conference game, Minnesota takes on Northwestern. The Gophers slipped by Nebraska and then battered a favored Pitt team, 46-7.

Coach Murray Warmath's split-

T seems to be the thing for the McNamara brothers—Bob and Dick—and Geno Cappelletti, a versatile back who is taking over where Paul Giel left off.

Fumbles Hurt

Northwestern fumbled away its chances against Southern Cal Saturday and was beaten 27-7 after an opening day victory over Iowa State.

Two of the better games of the day will be non-conference affairs. Undefeated Duke will be at Purdue and Wisconsin is host to Rice in a nationally televised affair.

The Blue Devils should make a good measuring stick as to whether Purdue's 27-14 victory over Notre Dame was a fluke. But if Duke wants to win it'll have to shackle quarterback Len Dawson.

The 19-year-old sophomore has pitched eight touchdown passes in Purdue's two victories. In fact, only one of Purdue's nine touchdowns this season has not resulted from a Dawson pass.

Badgers Meet Rice

Wisconsin's battering brigade, led by Alan Ameche who bulled his way for a 28-yard touchdown and 6-0 victory over Michigan State, meets a Southwest power in Rice. The Owls swept by Cornell Saturday, 41-20.

Notre Dame will try to bounce back against Pitt. The Irish will be fighting mad and it might turn out to be another bad afternoon for the Panthers who have been trounced by both Southern Cal and Minnesota.

Marquette, still looking for its first victory, is host to Cincinnati Saturday night. The Warriors were upset by Miami of Ohio, 27-26. Cincinnati walloped Tulsa, 40-7.

Key Pro Grid Games Scheduled This Week

By ORLO ROBERTSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

Key games involving first place in both divisions of the National football league are on tap this week even though the play-for-pay boys have been in action only two weeks.

The first of the week-end's top contests involves the Philadelphia Eagles and the Pittsburgh Steelers at Philadelphia Saturday night. Both are unbeaten in two games.

And then on Sunday, the champion Detroit Lions, winner of their lone game, will entertain the powerful Los Angeles Rams. The Rams also are unbeaten but have been tied by the San Francisco 49'ers. San Francisco, with a victory and a tie, meets the winless Green Bay Packers at Milwaukee Sunday.

Redskins Lose 37-7

The setup for such important games so early in the season came about when Pittsburgh defeated Washington 37-7 Saturday night and the Eagles trimmed the Chicago Cardinals 35-16 Sunday. The New York Giants lost a chance to keep pace by dropping a 20-14 Saturday decision to the Baltimore Colts.

Sports Roundup

By GAYLE TALBOT

CLEVELAND (AP)—They were saying in this stricken city today that the World Series would have been an entirely different proposition if Willie Mays hadn't made that outlandish catch of Vic Wertz's potential game wrecker on the first day at the Polo Grounds.

Even General Manager Hank Greenberg of the Indians subscribed to this sentiment. The suffering citizens could be right to some extent.

But for Willie's tremendous feat the Tribe almost certainly would have won the opener, and with that one under their belts Al Lopez's athletes might not have looked quite so terrible as they did in the succeeding games. But to suggest that they might have beaten the New York Giants under any circumstances borders on the ridiculous.

Giants Strong

The Giants are a very fine ball team from stem to stern, while the American League champions simply are not a solid outfit. After you've said that they have two of the game's best pitchers in Bob Lemon and Early Wynn, you've just about exhausted the subject. After watching the Indians roll over and play dead against Leo Durocher's fast and alert club one can only wonder again, how they won 111 ball games in any league.

The Indians were supposed to have bench strength, yet at the very end, with only one more out to go before decomposition set in, Lopez found himself forced to send up a lefty swinger, Dale Mitchell, against one of the game's finest southpaws, Johnny Antonelli. Mitchell ended the agony with a pop foul to Henry Thompson.

Dark's Idea

The most significant thing we heard in the winners' happy dressing room was Durocher's explanation of why he relieved with Antonelli in the eighth inning of the clincher after Hoyt Wilhelm had wavered, instead of bringing on his other short-term specialist, Marv Grissom, who had proved his ability to throttle the Tribe in the opener. Leo snorted at a suggestion that he had planned all along to relieve with his top hand if such a situation arose.

"If you want to know something, it wasn't my idea at all," he said. "It was Al Dark's. After hitting against their left-hander, Mossi, in the sixth Al told me the shadows made it very difficult to see a southpaw at all and suggested that I get Johnny in there as quickly as possible. If it hadn't been for that I probably would have gone on with Wilhelm. Hoyt's only trouble was that he had too much stuff."

Mrs. Heminger Dies At Hospital

Mrs. Harvey Heminger, 76, 508 1st Ave. S., widely known resident of Escanaba, died at 11:45 a. m. today at St. Francis Hospital where she had been a patient the past 10 weeks.

Mrs. Heminger, who had lived here 35 years, was a devout member of St. Patrick's Church and active in parish affairs until her health failed. She also was prominently associated with Trinity Circle 362, Daughters of Isabella.

Surviving are her husband, three sons, William, Raymond and Robert of Escanaba, and two daughters, Miss Lucille Heminger of Elmhurst, Ill., and Miss Genevieve Olsen of Temple, Tex.

The body was taken to the Boyce Funeral Home. Arrangements for the services will be completed after Miss Heminger arrives from Elmhurst this evening.

Cool Weather Is Headed Here

Cold weather and brisk winds are on the way to this area but the effect on the duck hunting is not yet known. The freezing of some of the feeding areas in Canada may force more ducks to this area but an off shore wind will probably keep the birds away from shore. With the clear weather it will be easier to see the birds but the birds will see the hunters just as well.

Yesterday's 27 of an inch of rain just added to the swamps and low ground which is already flooded in the woods. The ideal weather for upland game hunters would be a freeze followed by a heavy wind to knock the leaves down and increase visibility.

The weather for tomorrow will approach those conditions as the temperature is expected to drop to 35 late tonight when the north-west winds of 15-20 miles an hour subside.

Readings in the Escanaba area will hover around the low 50's tomorrow as the cool Canadian air continues in force. The coldest weather in the nation yesterday was Montana where the highs were 26 at Cutback and 28 at Glasgow.

Mink Stole Won By Nun Formerly Of Bark River

Sister M. Loyola, the former Helen Dubord of Bark River, won a mink stole and a nine day trip to the Ozarks but the Illinois State Nurses' association doesn't know what she will do with the prizes. The award was announced at the association's dinner in Chicago last Thursday night.

A mink stole isn't a regular garb for a Catholic nun but the association hoped she would appreciate a trip to the Ozarks.

State Asks Bids On M-69 Improvement

The State Highway Department will open bids in Escanaba on Oct. 12 for the improvement of nearly seven miles of M-69 in Dickinson County, it was announced today.

The state is asking proposals for grading and drainage and stabilized aggregate surfacing on 6.957 miles of M-69 east and west of Felch.

The more tasks we leave for tomorrow the quicker the future becomes the past.

McCarthy To Stress Fight On Reds In Censure Defense

Senate Investigations subcommittee McCarthy heads.

The Tribune said Subcommittee Staff Director Francis P. Carr will resign his $11,000-a-year post to take an executive job with an unnamed large transportation company headquartered in New York.

Carr, McCarthy and Subcommittee Counsel Roy M. Cohn were principals in the row with Army officials which the subcommittee investigated in 36 days of public hearings last spring. Carr was dismissed as a principal midway in the hearings by unanimous vote. Cohn resigned July 19, 12 days before the issuance of majority and minority subcommittee reports both critical of him.

300 At Norway Church Rally

Three hundred persons in the area reaching Manistique to Iron River attended the parish evangelism rally held at Norway on Sunday afternoon, Oct. 3. About 30 members of the Bethany Lutheran Church Escanaba, attended as well as scores of people from neighboring Lutheran churches.

The keynote address of Rev. Martin Lingwall of Minneapolis, stressed the needs of people around us, pointing out that the Church was born in and grew through Evangelism with the Holy Spirit working in and through the hearts and souls of people.

The discussion groups were conducted by Rev. Leslie Carlson of San Antonio, Texas, with the board members; Rev. Martin Lingwall of Minneapolis, Minn., with the church school teachers and workers; Rev. Elmer Sahlgren of Geneseo, Illinois with the organizations; Rev. Eskil Bostrom of Fergus Falls, Minnesota with the Youth group; and Rev. William E. Berg of Minneapolis, Minn., with the lay visitors.

The closing message was given by Rev. William E. Berg, Minneapolis.

Local services with guest speakers will be held each evening Monday through Friday at the fifteen churches participating in this area. Rev. Eric Hagg of Moline, Ill. will be the guest speaker at the Bethany Lutheran Church, Escanaba; Rev. Martin Lingwall, Minneapolis, at the First Lutheran Church, Gladstone; Rev. Leland Kackson, Sault Ste. Marie at Bethany Lutheran, Perkins; Rev. William Jacobson, Missionary to Africa, at Salem Lutheran, Bark River; Rev. Burdette Benson of Cumberland, Wis., at Calvary Lutheran, Rapid River and Rev. Richard Engstrom of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, at the Bethel Lutheran Church, Stonington.

Quick Approval Predicted For Freed Germany

are to be created within the next 18 to 20 months.

West Germany, with its traditional military kills and massive industrial potential, will become the North Atlantic Treaty Organization's 15th member, bolstering the Western defense line that stretches from the arctic to the Aegean.

Strict Controls Provided But there will be ironclad international controls to prevent a new resurgent Germany from menacing her neighbors.

West Germany and her World War II Axis partner Italy are to be brought into an expanded and revived Brussels mutual defense organization, whose present members are Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg. The seven-nation group will establish an armaments agency to set the maximum military strength for all continental members and enforce compliance.

NATO will set the minimum military contributions from its members. Any request for an increase in German armament must have the unanimous backing of the entire Brussels group, including France.

The London agreements included these:

1. To balance off Germany and to reassure the fearful French, the British would keep four divisions and a tactical air force on the Continent indefinitely.
2. Secretary of State Dulles promised to recommend maintenance of American troops in Europe so long as "a threat to the area exists."
3. Adenauer pledged that Germany would not produce the A-C weapons—atomic, biological and chemical. He also agreed to ban production of long-range rockets, guided missiles, magnetic mines, warships over 3,000 tons, submarines over 350 tons, atom-propelled warships and big bombers.
